Course Description: In this class we will cover algebraic techniques and ideas that are useful in a wide range of mathematical areas. The four main themes are category theory, multilinear algebra, homological algebra, and representation theory of semisimple algebras and groups. This class and its sequel serve as preparation for the algebra written comprehensive exam.

Assessments: We will have 5 or 6 written homework assignments, for which you are strongly encouraged to work in groups. We will also have two take-home exams, for which you are expected to work alone.

Students With Disabilities: Students with disabilities are encouraged to contact the instructor for a confidential discussion of their individual needs for academic accommodation. It is the policy of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln to provide flexible and individualized accommodation to students with documented disabilities that may affect their ability to fully participate in course activities or to meet course requirements. To receive accommodation services, students must be registered with the Services for Students with Disabilities office, 132 Canfield Administration, 472-3787 voice or TTY, <http://www.unl.edu/ssd>.

Department Grading Policy: Students who believe their academic evaluation has been prejudiced or capricious have recourse for appeals to (in order) the instructor, the department vice chair, the department chair, the departmental appeals committee, and the college appeals committee.

Academic Honesty: Academic honesty is essential to the existence and integrity of an academic institution. The responsibility for maintaining that integrity is shared by all members of the academic community. The University's Student Code of Conduct addresses academic dishonesty. Students who commit acts of academic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary action and are granted due process and the right to appeal any decision.

Face coverings: Students are required to comply with all university face covering policies throughout the semester, and strongly recommended to comply with all local health guidelines. If anyone has a documented need for face coverings to be required in their classes, for example a member of your household is unable to be vaccinated or has a health condition that makes vaccines less effective for them, please contact me ASAP.
